The IGET King is a disposable vape device with 1.3ml of e-liquid and 50mg of nicotine inside, it's perfect for the on-the-go lifestyle. The IGET King provides an experience similar to smoking a cigarette, but without the harmful chemicals found in cigarettes or vaping devices.

The IGET King comes in three different flavors: tobacco, menthol, and clove mint blueberry blast! Each flavor has its own color scheme which makes it easy to identify what flavor you have in your hand at any given time so no need to worry about mixing up your flavors while out on the town socializing with friends or family members like mommy who hates when we mix our drinks together because she says that's not how adults do things but who cares what she thinks right now I just want some sweet gum drops!

You can tell if your IGET King is authentic by looking at how hard it is hitting back against your palm when squeezed tight enough between thumb and forefinger - fake ones will give way easily whereas real ones will resist slightly giving off even more character (or something like that). Also look for spelling mistakes such as "I GET KING" instead of "IGET KING" since those are usually signs someone has tampered with their product - this isn't always true though because sometimes people just haven't learned how yet so if someone does this don't be too hard on them since they're still learning about stuff just like us all were once upon a time when we were young."

Is IGET King a commercial product?

In a nutshell, IGET King is a commercial product. This means that it's designed to be sold in stores and used by anyone looking for an easy way to vape on the go.

It's also disposable, meaning that you can use it once and throw it away (or recycle it). The idea behind this is that you don't have to worry about cleaning or maintaining your device like you would with most other vapes.

IGET King is perfect for people who lead busy lives and need something small enough that they can take with them anywhere, but still large enough for their needs at home or work. The disposable nature of these devices also makes them great for trying out new flavors without having to purchase more expensive reusable ones!

How to distinguish fake IGET King?

Before buying an IGET King, you must check the authenticity of the product. The following points will help you to distinguish fake from genuine product:

- The logo of the IGET King should be displayed clearly on the box and vape pen. If it is blurred or missing, you can say that it is a fake product.
- Go through all the material used in making this vape pen. It should be CE certified and have serial number as well as batch number mentioned on it. If there are no such markings on your product, then it may be considered as a counterfeit one by your dealer or seller.
- Check whether your device has been made according to required standards set by government authorities like Food & Drug Administration (FDA). This assures better protection against toxins and harmful chemicals getting into your body when vaping with this device than other cheap imitations that do not meet these standards at all

How many puffs can you get out of an IGET King?

The IGET King is designed to produce 50mg of nicotine per puff, which means you can expect roughly the same amount of puffs from each cartridge. The difference between this vape pen and others is that it's rechargeable, so you don't have to use up your e-liquids as fast!

However, because every single individual will have different habits when it comes to vaping, there's no way to tell exactly how many puffs you'll get out of each pod. For example: if someone vapes at a lower wattage than usual while taking short drags on their device, they may need to replace their pod sooner than someone who uses more power or takes longer draws (in other words, they're burning through their juice faster).
